 Review May Meeting Summary
- 6:15 PM Tittabawassee River Wildlife Project
- The Michigan State University Wildlife Toxicology Laboratory began a five-year wildlife study throughout the Tittabawassee River floodplain in the fall of 2003 to assess the possible effects of dioxin and furan exposure from the environment. Professor Matthew Zwiernik will present an overview of results to date and take questions from the CAG. This is the first in a series of expert speakers on studies related to dioxin health effects and exposure being coordinated by the CAG.
- 7:45 PM Public Q&A with Professor Zwiernik
- 8:00 PM Update on Cleanup Decisions
- 8:15 PM Conversation with EPA Region 5 Senior Managers
- Members of EPA Senior Management are interested in seeing the CAG in action and will spend some time in conversation with CAG members.
- 8:45 PM Public Q&A with EPA Region 5 Senior Managers
- 9:00 PM Adjourn

Our Groundrules:

In conducting the work of the CAG, members will:

- work cooperatively with each other, supporting agencies, and other stakeholders,
- be respectful of all participants,
- approach all issues and viewpoints with an open mind,
- work to ensure that their concerns and issues are articulated in a way that all stakeholders can understand,
- seek common ground wherever possible, and present and respect minority opinions where they exist.
