

The Community Involvement Plan and the Community Advisory Group

The Community Involvement Plan

- What is a community involvement plan?
 - A management and planning tool with actions to be carried out during the course of site activities
 - _ Encourages interaction between the affected community and involved agencies
 - Ensures that the community can participate in the decision-making process

The Community Involvement Plan

What is the Preliminary Draft CIP?

- An early draft of a CIP based on community interviews and standardized community involvement tools
- Main purpose is to generate discussion between the CAG and the involved agencies
- Presents concepts for discussion with corrections – punctuation, grammar, format, etc. – to be taken care of in final version

The Community Involvement Plan

Comments and concerns from community interviews

- Some believe federal and state agencies should be more aggressive in forcing Dow to clean the rivers and bay, but ...
- Some worry that too aggressive agency actions will impose financial hardship on Dow and in turn on the 3 counties
- Some residents think the agencies should get more information into the local news media but ...
- Some residents believe local news media are biased toward Dow
- Some residents believe that the contamination has been in place too long and should be removed immediately but ...
- Some residents worry that disturbing the sediment will worsen the contamination

The Community Involvement Plan

Some community recommendations and agency responses

- Residents: There is a need for technical information, but it should be available in easier to understand form and interpreted by an unbiased source.

Agency response: A Community Advisory Group composed of a widely diverse cross-section of local residents has been set up to serve as an that will objectively interpret technical documents and serve as intermediary between the public and the agencies.

The Community Involvement Plan

Some community recommendations and agency responses

- Residents: Make information access easier

➔ Agency response: EPA opened a local Community Information office in Saginaw with an additional site repository; a listserv notification system was set up for immediate notification of new activity; Internet information has been expanded and simplified

The Community Involvement Plan

Some community recommendations and agency responses

- Residents: Meetings should be held in a convenient, neutral facility

➔ Agency response: EPA and MDNRE have been holding meetings at SVSU, a facility with no connection to any local businesses or government agency. The agencies will hold meetings in other communities as deemed appropriate based on the topic.

The Community Involvement Plan

The CAG and the CIP

- Concentrate on Section 4, “the heart of the document”
- Offer additions, amendments, corrections, suggestions, enhancements, etc.
- Decide how much of a role CAG wants in CIP activities
